Registration Now Open for Subdivision and Development Appeal Board (SDAB) Training

Rural Municipalities of Alberta (RMA) and Alberta Urban Municipalities Association (AUMA), with Municipal Affairs are offering FREE workshops

SDABs are an essential part of the land use planning and development framework in Alberta. The board makes decisions that shape the make-up and practices of our communities. Each training session covers topics relevant to SDAB members and clerks while also meeting the provincial requirements. Municipal Affairs has made the SDAB curriculum and supporting materials available to the public on the Municipal Affairs website. The workshop will teach the fundamental skills and knowledge necessary to conduct effective hearings and make enforceable decisions.

In order to address the over-subscription of the training courses offered by Municipal Affairs, the following full day sessions will be offered this fall, see details below:
