Municipalities Invited to the Putting Beavers to Work for Watershed Resiliency Symposium

The Miistakis Institute and Cows and Fish invite you to learn about how beavers can help increase watershed resiliency in Alberta

The Miistakis Institute and Cows and Fish present the “Putting Beavers to Work for Watershed Resiliency and Restoration” symposium on October 23 - 24, 2019 in Calgary. The symposium will be focusing on generating awareness about the role of beavers as ecosystem engineers and promoting coexistence through the demonstration and implementation of various coexistence tools (such as pond leveller, culvert protector, tree wrapping, etc.).

Below is a draft outline of the events:

October 23 (Day) – Symposium presentations, Ross Glen Hall, Mount Royal University

October 23 (Evening) – The Beaver Believers film screening, Ross Glen Hall, Mount Royal University

October 24 (Tour) – Coexistence tools demonstration sites tour, Calgary and surrounding region.
