Complete CNAM's Asset Management Needs Survey

The Canadian Network of Asset Managers is conducting a national survey to determine municipal asset management capacity and needs

As part of the FCM's Municipal Asset Management Program (MAMP), the Canadian Network of Asset Managers (CNAM) is conducting a national survey on the current needs and demand for workforce capacity and capability development of asset management in Canada.

The results of the survey are critical to building data and better understanding Canada's municipal asset management landscape. It will help CNAM, FCM, and the Government of Canada build knowledge on:

- gaps in individual and organizational asset management competency,
- areas where organizations need help to implement and sustain their asset management programs, and
- resources individuals and organizations require to better develop their asset management capacity and capabilities.

The survey will take between 20 and 30 minutes to complete, and those who complete the survey will be entered into a draw for one of several Amazon gift cards.

There is no specific deadline for completing the survey, but municipalities are encouraged to complete it as soon as possible.
