WORKSHOP INFORMATION:

Municipal planning and development decisions can have a lasting impact on your community for generations. These decisions can be further complicated by different levels of authorities and evolving regulations that municipalities must consider.

Join Brownlee LLP Partner Jeneane Grundberg, Q.C., ICD.D, as she provides a Planning 101 Workshop. One of our foremost leaders in municipal planning and development topics, Jeneane will discuss the necessary tools and information councils need to navigate planning and development issues.

Topics at this workshop will include:

- a) An overview of planning and development players: The Province, the Land and Property Rights Tribunal, Council, Subdivision Authority, Development Authority and the SDAB;
- b) An overview of the planning framework: The Municipal Government Act, relevant Provincial Regulations, regional plans, statutory plans, land use bylaws and municipal planning policies;
- c) Public hearing pointers;
- d) Developing on or near environmentally sensitive lands (including slopes and floodplains);
- e) Streamlining the planning and development process; and
- f) an update on any recent case law or legislation.
