New Mental Health Resources Available for the Agricultural Sector

AgKnow has recently launched a website to provide mental health supports for farmers and ranchers in Alberta. In addition, AgKnow is partnering with researchers to explore issues of importance for Albertans in the agricultural sector such as farm transition and livestock depopulation. This work supports RMA resolution 2-19S: Access to Agriculture-Specific Mental Health Resources.

A virtual kick-off event is available for registration now, including details for those interested in becoming involved.
